Mr. E. C. Quigley,
St. Marys, Kansas.

Dear Ernie:

Jim McFarland, manager of the Rexall Drug Store in Topeka, father of Jean McFarland - Bobby's fiancee, heard your broadcast the other evening in which you paid me some fine compliments. I am sorry that I didn't hear it, but Jean told me that she did, and that it was wonderful. I thank you for your kindly remarks.

And too, I doubly appreciate the things that you said to me between halves Saturday night regarding my attitude.

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Dear Ernie:

Thank you for your very good letter of the 4th instant.

I have a letter that I am writing George Edwards, and later I will send you a copy of it. I think it will please you, but I want you to keep it confidential.

The reason I wrote you about the rule book is because I noticed in Jack Coombs book where there had been a change in baseball rules. It must be some special interpretation, or perhaps that which he referred to was not important enough to make a reprint on.

No, indeed, we haven't worn out the book. We use it, and it is very helpful to us, and I thank you very much for sending it to us. I would appreciate it if you have a couple of those autographed National League pens if you would send me a couple.

With best wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Phog:

I, too, am sorry that I missed you the afternoon I called.

Although it is a matter that could better be discussed verbally than by correspondence, I would have taken up with you, the very unethical, as I view it, selection of two officials for the final N.C.A.A. game, and not one of them being an official from our area.

Had the two officials been selected from the area of the competing teams, I wouldn't have a word to say, but as President of the Mid-Western Officials Association, I am heartily interested in the morale of the men who serve in your conference and I don't think it did them any good not to have one of them selected.

If you care to advise your $7.50 a week clerk how I feel about this, you may.

There has been no change in the baseball rules since the 1940 book was published and we have not edited a new book on Interpretations.

If you have worn out the 1940 book and the Interpretations, please let me know and I will gladly replenish your stock.

My kindest regards to the Allen family.

Dear Ernie:

I am sorry that I missed you when you called at my office yesterday afternoon. It would have been a pleasure to chat with you for a few minutes.

By the way, I am wondering if there is a recent book on baseball rule interpretations. We have a copy of the 1940 book, and I would like to get a newer one if possible. Could you tell me anything about it?

Dear Dr. Allen:

I am taking the liberty of enclosing one of our Christmas Coaching School programs. I thought inasmuch as you have been a part of our summer Coaching School program you might be interested in seeing what we have lined up for our Coaching School here at Christmas time.

As you will readily see by the program, most of the emphasis is placed on basketball with considerable attention being given to the problem of officiating since we have selected twenty-four officials from various parts of the state to perform in the three games which we are playing. We are trying to follow up our coaching school summer program with this one at mid-year.

Yours very truly,

Dear Ernie:

Johnny Parker, the coach at DeSoto High School, called me the other day about one of his seniors - Forrest Pontious, Jr., who desires to come to the University. Forrest is the son of the superintendent of schools at DeSoto.

He is a fine basketball player, will not be 18 years of age until next January, and will need some work this summer and next fall. I told Coach Parker that there is plenty of work for him at 50¢ an hour. We are keeping his name on our list, and I am merely sending you this notation so that you will have a record in your office.

ALL MESSAGES TAKEN BY THIS COMPANY ARE SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS:

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should order it repeated, that is, telegraphed back to the originating office for comparison. For this, one-half the unrepeated message rate is charged in addition. Unless otherwise indicated on its face, this is an unrepeated message and paid for as such, in consideration whereof it is agreed between the sender of the message and this Company as follows:

1. The Company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the unrepeated-message rate beyond the sum of five hundred dollars; nor for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any message received for transmission at the repeated-message rate beyond the sum of five thousand dollars, unless specially valued; nor in any case for delays arising from unavoidable interruption in the working of its lines.

2. In any event the Company shall not be liable for damages for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for the non-delivery, of any message, whether caused by the negligence of its servants or otherwise, beyond the actual loss, not exceeding in any event the sum of five thousand dollars, at which amount the sender of each message represents that the message is valued, unless a greater value is stated in writing by the sender thereof at the time the message is tendered for transmission, and unless the repeated-message rate is paid or agreed to be paid, and an additional charge equal to one-tenth of one per cent of the amount by which such valuation shall exceed five thousand dollars.

3. The Company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward this message over the lines of any other company when necessary to reach its destination.

4. Except as otherwise indicated in connection with the listing of individual places in the filed tariffs of the Company, the amount paid for the transmission of a domestic telegram or an incoming cable or radio message covers its delivery within the following limits: In cities or towns of 5,000 or more inhabitants where the Company has an office which, as shown by the filed tariffs of the Company, is not operated through the agency of a railroad company, within two miles of any open main or branch office of the Company; in cities or towns of 5,000 or more inhabitants where, as shown by the filed tariffs of the Company, the telegraph service is performed through the agency of a railroad company, within one mile of the telegraph office; in cities or towns of less than 5,000 inhabitants in which an office of the Company is located, within one-half mile of the telegraph office. Beyond the limits above specified the Company does not undertake to make delivery, but will endeavor to arrange for delivery as the agent of the sender, with the understanding that the sender authorizes the collection of any additional charge from the addressee and agrees to pay such additional charge if it is not collected from the addressee. There will be no additional charge for deliveries made by telephone within the corporate limits of any city or town in which an office of the Company is located.

5. No responsibility attaches to this Company concerning messages until the same are accepted at one of its transmitting offices; and if a message is sent to such office by one of the Company's messengers, he acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender.

6. The Company will not be liable for damages or statutory penalties in the case of any message except an intrastate message in Texas where the claim is not presented in writing to the Company within sixty days after the message is filed with the Company for transmission, and in the case of an intrastate message in Texas the Company will not be liable for damages or statutory penalties where the claim is not presented in writing to the Company within ninety-five days after the cause of action, if any, shall have accrued; provided, however, that neither of these conditions shall apply to claims for damages or overcharges within the purview of Section 415 of the Communications Act of 1934.

7. It is agreed that in any action by the Company to recover the tolls for any message or messages the prompt and correct transmission and delivery thereof shall be presumed, subject to rebuttal by competent evidence.

8. Special terms governing the transmission of messages according to their classes, as enumerated below, shall apply to messages in each of such respective classes in addition to all the foregoing terms.

9. No employee of the Company is authorized to vary the foregoing.

Dear Ernie:

The Chamber of Commerce is on their annual membership drive. Mike Getto is the captain and I am his lieutenant. Your name is on my list for a call upon you.

For about 18 years I was a member of the Chamber of Commerce and paid them $25.00 a year for the privilege of their fine cooperation. When I was Director of Athletics I suggested that it would be a fine thing for Earl Falkenstien to be a member and for the Athletic Association to pay his $15.00 fee, which is a special price for professors and faculty employees.

The Chamber of Commerce holds itself ready to help in all football and athletic activities, and I would very much appreciate it if you could send me a check by return mail as this is supposed to be a one-day campaign.

Most business houses and organizations pay the membership of their directing heads, and frankly, I think this membership should be taken care of by the Athletic Association. At any rate, we would like to have you as a member of the Chamber of Commerce in Lawrence, Kansas.

Thanking you for your fine cooperation, I am

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,

Dear Ernie:

I coached at the Iowa State High School Athletic Association Coaching School at Boone, Iowa, this summer from August 15 to 19, where we had nearly three hundred Iowa high school coaches. With me were Ray Eliot, varsity coach of Illinois, and Slip Madigan, of the University of Iowa. The baseball faculty included Lou Fonseca, public relations officer of the American League, Pie Traynor, in the same capacity in the National League, and Bud Parmalee, of the New York Giants, representing the American League. Track was taught by Charles "Chuck" Hoyt, of Yale University.

I am sending you some letters that I received from the coaches after the school. They had purchased my book, "Better Basketball", and the reference is regarding the autographing of the same.

I taught Basketball and the Theory and Practice of Athletic Injuries. Just for our public relations angle I thought you might be interested in scanning over these letters. After you have finished with them I would appreciate it if you will return them to my office at your convenience.

Mr. E. C. Quigley,
Director of Athletics,
University of Kansas.

Dear Ernie:

Each month I write a Jayhawk Rebounds for the many boys who are in the service. I got this conception from my experiences after the first World War. I came to the campus on September 15, 1919, and saw dear old Uncle Jimmy Green, who said, "Well, Phog, I am glad to see you. I am glad to see you here at the University. I promised my boys when they went overseas that I would wait for them, and I am waiting until they return, and when they get back my job is happily finished."

When the boys went away this time I was too old to enter service, but I thought I could render those boys a genuine service by keeping them informed as to the whereabouts of their buddies. Each month I have tried to appraise them of the activities and whereabouts of their Jayhawker friends.

I have some back copies if you are interested in them. Mrs. Hulteen will be glad to let you have them, because they may give you some addresses of some of the boys on the several fighting fronts.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
