

August 8, 1940.

Mr. E. C. Quigley,
National League of Baseball Clubs,
9 Rockefeller Building,
New York City.

Dear Ernie:

The book which you kindly sent to me was delivered to Jack Andrews at the Gas Company office here in Lawrence, Kansas. I am writing you so that you may have a record of his address and the delivery.

He appreciated it greatly; in fact, he was overwhelmed. So you made a very fine friend by this splendid gift of yours. I let him read your letter and it pleased him very much.

I am sending you the non-conference schedule but we are having trouble scheduling dates with Oklahoma Aggies, and I am sure only of our games with Fordham, Temple, Loyola, and Texas. The Wichita date is practically set, but not closed as yet.

For your information, if my memory is correct, you told me that you were planning not to do any officiating at all and going one hundred per cent on the radio. I believe, Ernie, that was the last definite message I had from you, so you can see why I did not send you the non-conference list. I promised to do so previous to our conversation, so I took it that you weren't interested. Am I correct, or should I assume that the last statement was the final decision?

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation,

Varsity Basketball Coach.

FCA:AH