My dear Phog:

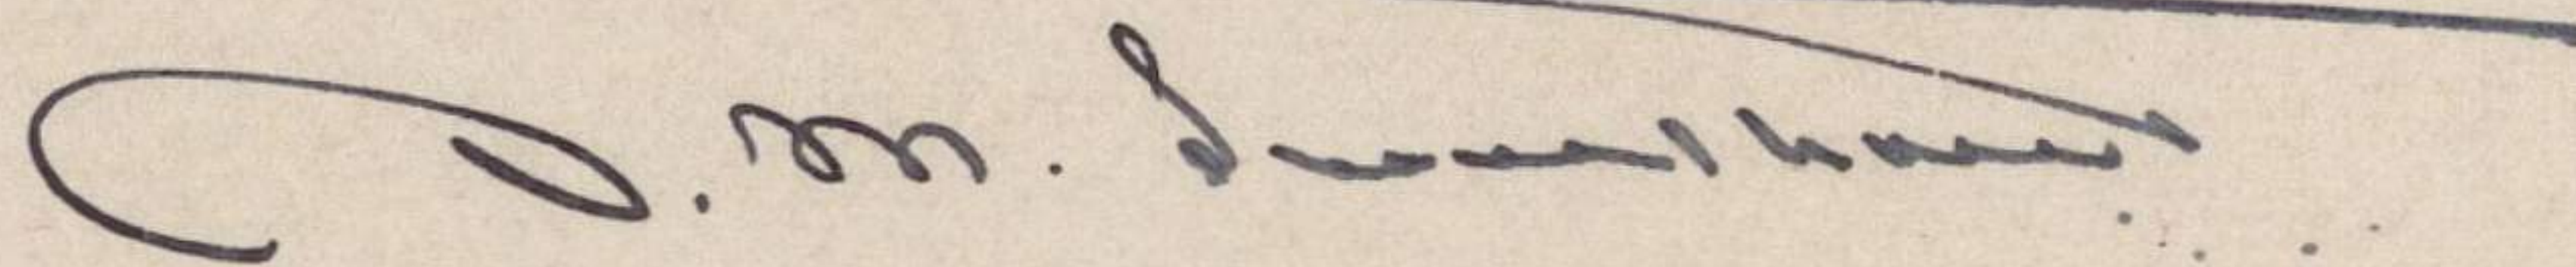

I had a big laugh over your letter of April twelfth. You certainly came through in big style. I tryed a little of that on my feet and it worked fine.

First thing I know, I'll find myself clear out in Tonganoxie, still on the go, with no sign of fatigue at all. If I had more time, I'd walk right on to Kansas City. It's got the stuff in it all right.

Many thanks. I'll make use of it. It should last me quite a while, maybe until the war is entirely over.

Kind regards.

Cordially yours,

D. M. Swarthout
Dean
