Mr. Dan Servey
456 West 62nd Street Terrace
Kansas City, Missouri

Dear Dan:

Yesterday I spoke to the Traffic Club and promised myself that before I got out of Kansas City I was going to drive out and say hello to you.

However, Dana Durand met me after luncheon and asked me to work on Fred Wolcott's knee, the Rice University hurdler. As a consequence, I worked on him and then Cal Morrow and Webb Holloway met me at the Athletic Club, where I was working on Wolcott, and we had a conference which lasted until such a time that I was forced to hurry back to Lawrence to coach the baseball team.

This is no good alibi at all, Dan, but I assure you that the first opportunity I have to come to Kansas City I am going to drop out and say hello to you. I feel rather low down for not having called on you sooner. But it is just one of those things that people have no excuses for but are nevertheless ashamed of themselves for not doing.

I have talked to Dr. Dave Robinson about you and told him I was coming to see you. Only yesterday I read of the accident to Dr. Robinson. You keep up the good fight, Dan, we are certainly going to see you soon.

I am leaving today at noon for Chase, Kansas to speak at their Community High School banquet tonight, and tomorrow night I speak at McPherson. Also I am coaching the baseball team. I am just trying to show you, Dan, that I try to kid myself into being busy. But friends are worth more than merely running around the country and I want you to know that I consider you one of my tried and true friends. I have never forgotten the many kindnesses and courtesies that you extended me.

With sincerest wishes for your complete and rapid recovery, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation
Varsity Basketball and Baseball Coach
