

November 2, 1938.

Mr. Sylvester Schmidt,
Marysville, Kansas.

Dear Sylvester:

Well, the old basketball grind is on again. On Monday following the Nebraska football game we will start our daily afternoon workouts with the varsity. In the evening we will start our freshman practice.

There are two games that have become traditional - the varsity-freshman game which will be played on November 29 in Hoch Auditorium, and the all-star-last-year's-varsity versus the freshman team of this year. We are planning to play the all-star game following our game with Central Missouri State Teachers College, last year's National Collegiate Tournament winners at Kansas City. The date is scheduled for December 3rd, Saturday night.

Now, we are wondering if you and Fred Pralle can come in and play with your old teammates of last year against the frosh.

On the afternoon of December 3rd we are planning on a coaching clinic wherein the boys of the Kansas team and the Teachers College will demonstrate fundamentals in both individual and team offense and defense. Then in the evening we will have a double-header and we are inviting all the coaches and players of this section as our guests. We should have a bumper crowd.

Won't you try to see if it won't be possible for you to come in and play in this game, because it will not be last year's championship team without you and Fred. Saturday morning we have a rules meeting of the Big Six and the Missouri Valley Conference in Kansas City, and then in the afternoon we come down here for the clinic meeting and game at night. We should have a great turn out.

I will be eagerly awaiting for a reply so that I can announce this attraction to the outside, breathless, waiting world.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
