

snow, we look south 100 miles to the island of Hawaii to see Mauna Loa and Mauna Kea, and north to our own island of Oahu, Molokai, Lanai and Kahoolawe. Some day we want to return to Maui and spend the summer hiking and painting.

After many years we have discovered that drawing and painting can be lots of fun. We have been taking lessons and while the results of our efforts may not excite the art critics, we do enjoy trying. There are so many beautiful things to paint and draw in Hawaii - landscapes, flowers and the many types of people.
