

February 15, 1938.

Mr. Harold Smith,
Smith-Grievess Company,
17th and Washington St.,
Kansas City, Mo.

Dear Harold:

I failed to acknowledge receipt of your good letter of the first instant sooner, but I want you to know that I appreciate very much your sending the two Basketball Bibles. I just wanted them for the kiddies in the future years to come. They will be interesting documents 50 years from now.

I am glad to know that Larry is doing good work at Exeter. I agree with him that basketball in the east does not compare with that played in the west.

At the first time that I have an opportunity to come to Kansas City I will call you up and we will have lunch together. I know how interested you are in Larry and how you are wrapped up in him. You know me - I have always been brutally frank with you and I will continue to be. I like your frankness and friendship, and it will be a great pleasure to sit with you and talk over the things that are vital and of deepest interest to us - our sons and our daughters.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

FCA:AH