

Are Railroads Consumer Conscious?

(July 1932)

No — Ernest Elmo Calkins, advertising counselor and executive.

Yes — Fred Sargent, president, Chicago and North Western Railroad.

The War Debts

(March 1933)

1. A French View — Lucien Romier, French economist and author.

2. A British View — Sir Ernest Simon, British economist and author, former member of Parliament.

3. An American View — David Lawrence, editor, United States News.

Will Farm Allotment Help Recovery?

(March 1933)

Yes — Roy Ronald, publisher, Mitchell (S. D.) Republic.

No — Phil S. Hanna, editor, Chicago Journal of Commerce.

Is Inflation the Way Out?

(April 1933)

Yes — William Trufant Foster, director, Pollak Foundation for Economic Research.

No — H. Parker Willis, economist and author.

Shall We Abolish School Frills?

(May 1933)

Yes — H. L. Mencken, former editor, American Mercury.

No — John Dewey, educator and philosopher.

Is the Sales Tax Sound Policy?

(June 1933)

Yes — A. H. Stone, former Mississippi tax commissioner, and agricultural leader.

No — John Oliver Emmerich, Mississippi newspaper editor.

Cutting Medical Costs—Is the Group Plan the Best Remedy?

(August 1933)

Yes — Dr. Lewellys F. Barker, emeritus professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins University.

No — Dr. Arthur C. Christie, clinical professor of roentgenology, George Washington University.

Is Motor Competition Unfair?

(September 1933)

Yes — Samuel O. Dunn, editor, Railway Age.

No — A. J. Brosseau, president, Mack Trucks, Inc.