Mr. Stanley Schwahn,
Manager, Granada Theater,
Lawrence, Kansas.

Dear Mr. Schwahn:

We, the undersigned members of the University of Kansas varsity basketball aggregation of 1938-39, want you to know, Mr. Schwahn, that we appreciate your generosity and sympathetic understanding of a group of college fellows in a college town during vacation desiring some high spots in entertainment during a rather drab period in our academic existence.

Dr. Allen had already told us that you were an athlete in your younger days, of no mean ability. He said that you threw a wicked horsehide and that you floated the leather ball very accurately in the iron hoop. This, he said, was before you let your chest slip a little.

All of us would like for you to come up to some of our games and we will do our durnedest to entertain you if you will honor us with your presence.

With appreciation for what you have already done, and an added thanks for the members of our squad who accepted your gratuity in years previous, and a few of us the year before that, we are

Sincerely yours,
