PREJUDICE AND ANTI-SEMITISM - It is not surprising that a concomitant of the war should be a revival of disturbance with regard to Anti-Semitism. Strains of any wartime lend themselves readily to rumors and propaganda; and since our Axis adversary never ceases to agitate the racist issue, it is bound to come to the force in the progress of the present conflict. It is a movement, that is sedulously and systematically propagated, usually by certain well known and well tried techniques. Prejudice is the ready instrument of Anti-Semitism and goes hand in hand with it. The point is simply that here is a worldwide movement which has as its aim destruction of Christianity as well as Judaism. It is the duty of all Rotarians to combat all forms of prejudice and prevent the creating of needless and harmful misunderstandings.

Rotarily,

E. F. Mc.
