THE BULLETIN

Lawrence Rotary Club

March 20, 1942

Dr. Eugene A. "Stevie" Stephenson amazed the club last week with his remarkable store of information on the oil industry. The discussion was so interesting and timely that his fellow members wouldn't let him stop, kept him over-time answering questions. (Note to program chairmen of other clubs: He's a busy man these days, but if you can get him you'll have an outstanding program.)

E. Thayer Gaston can now qualify perfectly as an absent-minded professor. After the meeting Monday, Van Bruner raised a big fuss because someone had taken his man-sized raincoat and left him a similar coat, but much smaller. Thayer didn't know the difference until he reached home in the evening and his Great Dane wouldn't let him in the house. Van's coat was size 40 and Thayer's size 36.

Speaker at Monday's meeting will be Marmaduke Grove, our Chilean Exchange Student. He will give us some first-hand information on the view-point of our South American friends.

We've been asked to issue a special invitation to the Anns to attend the District Conference at Ottawa, Sunday and Monday, April 12 and 13. The committee has planned a program which will be of particular interest to you.

Tom Evans, of the Baldwin Club, announces an intercity forum at Baldwin, Thursday afternoon and evening, March 26. Lee Woodward will be the speaker at 3:30 p.m. and there will be panel discussions both before and after dinner. Gov. "Scotty" MacFarland will be on hand to help conduct the discussions.

Tom says they can accommodate a large crowd but would like to know by Tuesday how many from here will attend. Better give this some thought between now and Monday's meeting.

Friday night's round will be history before you read this (if you do) but win, lose or draw, "Phog," you can be sure we're all pulling for you.

General MacArthur Becomes Rotarian

Many newspapers recently reported that the Rotary Club of Manila, meeting in a mountain grove amid the rumble of heavy artillery, voted to confer honorary membership upon Gen. Douglas MacArthur. But, according to the report, the general had a few duties elsewhere and was unable to accept the honor personally.

The Journalette, bulletin of the Rotary Club of Minneapolis, Minn., publishes an imaginery acceptance by Gen. MacArthur, as might be heard over shortwave radio:

"Fellow Rotarians: Unaccustomed as I am-pardon me a moment while I start a counter-offensive-it gives me great pleasure-let 'em have Battery No. 5, boys-to become a member-chalk up another dive bomber, Joe-of your splendid organization dedicated to world peace-let's not bother with the rowboats, just knock off those barges—As I was saying, it gives me a feeling of pride to knowwell, if they go in the fox holes throw the bombs in on top of 'emthat you are carrying on the splendid -now the machine guns, then the rifles!—traditions of Rotary. I note yes, Private Smith, I know you want to sing 'Happy Birthday' to the President but it will have to wait a few days—with increasing satisfaction your devotion—blast them with those howitzers now!-to the ideals of international amity-what does that make the score today, sergeant?and good will. Thank you."

How Are Your Tires?

We all know we can save our tires by cutting down on our speed, but how much can we save? The Federal Research Bureau gives the following figures:

Speed	Tire Wear
25 mph	Normal
40 mph	25% above normal
50 mph	55% above normal
60 mph	80% above normal
70 mph	115% above normal
75 mph	145% above normal

Who Will Be Club President Next Year?

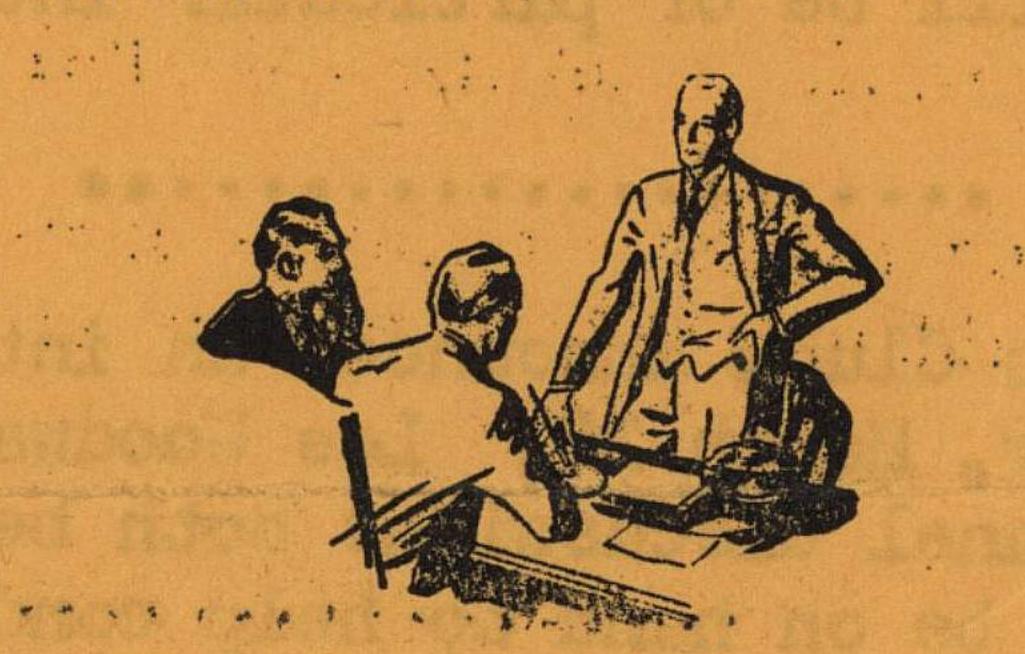

It is not too early for this year's officers to impress upon all members of the Rotary club how the progress and success of the club next year depends upon the judgment that they exercise in choosing the member who is to be club president. As one of the district governors recently put it, it is the president "on whom everything depends for one year."

Experience has shown that capacity as an administrator means more to the success of the president's work than capacity as a presiding officer.

Grace and ease on the platform are capacities that can be acquired, but one year is too short a time in which to hope that a man who has not shown administrative ability will acquire it.

Preparedness

In Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, the Rotarians have decided to raise a fund of $500 to have in readiness in case of a local emergency arising out of the state of war.

Kansas Hospitality

The Rotary Club of Cherry-vale, Kansas, was temporarily without a meeting place. The Rotary Club of Independence, Kansas, invited Cherryvale Rotarians to "come over" to the weekly meetings of the Independence club during the emergency.

The Way Rotary Works

(The fourteenth of a series of articles describing the organization and administration of Rotary International.)

Standing and Advisory Committees

The board has the benefit of the advice of various standing committees which are appointed by the president, with duties or terms of reference as set forth in Article XII of the Rotary International by-laws. One of the most important of the standing committees is the finance committee, which closely watches the income and expenditures of the organization and prepares the annual budget. Another is the aims and objects committee, with each member having his respective special responsibility-namely, the chairman, education in Rotary; one member, club service; one member, vocational service; one member, community service; and one member, international service. The magazine committee and the nominating committee for president are also important committees. In fact, all the committees are important.

There are several regional advisory committees. There is one (at present in suspense) for Europe, North Africa and the Eastern Mediterranean countries to help the board by advising it on matters in that region. There is also a Canadian Advisory Committee and a South American Committee of Collaboration among Rotary Clubs.

Favorable Balance

We have recently been informed that the board of directors of Rotary International has terminated the membership of Rotary clubs in Belgium, Yugoslavia, Roumania, and Greece. There were 63 clubs in all.

BUT, since July 1st, 1941, there have been 68 Rotary clubs admitted to membership. So, despite the losses, Rotary continues to grow. We still have more than 5,000 clubs!

Mr. Marmaduke Grove, 1025 West Hills Parkway, Lawrence, Kansas.

Dear Marmaduke:

Thank you very much for your excellent speech at our Rotary Club meeting on Monday. The members were tremendously interested in what you had to say, and it was a pleasure to have you there.

With deep appreciation, I am

MARMADUKE GROVE -- young graduate student in Engineering at the University of Kansas, and exchange student in residence here but with his home address in Santiago, Chile, S. A. Senor Grove is typically and thoroughly South American, even if his great-grandfather was an Irishman. You needn't be excited about that - your great-grandparents weren't Indians, were they?

He is the oldest boy in a family of eight. His father is a member of the Chilean Congress - a Senator representing the province of Santiago.

When he returns to his native land next fall he expects to enter the employ of the governmental highway commission.

In the meantime, he tells us in a frank way of his country and its problems. Perhaps we will learn what our Latin American friends think of us.

Chinese Student Addresses Rotary on the Conflict in China

Mou-Hui King, K. U. sophomore from Peiping, China, spoke before the Lawrence Rotary club today noon as part of a nationwide Rotary plan to create better understanding between the two republics which are opposing the Japanese in the Pacific. During the week, all Rotary clubs in America are giving special observance to Chinese-

American relationship.

The Chinese student spoke briefly of the culture of his native country, explaining the clash between Chinese and Japanese culture made it impossible to "absorb" the present day invaders. In previous assaults, the invaders were peoples of lower cultures who, in time, became a part of, or subservient to, the Chinese way of life. The philosophy and art of the two countries are incompatible.

In speaking of past invasions and international interference with China, King said the United States, of all nations involved, had shown the least selfish interest. Rather than condemning the U.S. for shipping vast tonnage of scrap iron to Japan in recent years, the student spoke of the unfortunate sale as a method of delaying warfare in the Pacific while this country could better prepare for eventualities.

Dr. F. C. Allen, chairman of the program committee, praised the valor of the Chinese soldiers and people, and emphasized the solidarity of Americans and Chinese in their resistance to the aggression of a "common demon enemy."

As an extra feature today, magician George Staples entertained the club with a sleight of hand performance and ventriloguism. He is appearing at Haskell this evening, at the high school tomorrow, and at Junior high the following day.

Guests today included L. L. Thompson, last year's president of the Baldwin club, and Coach Emil Liston of Baker University, who has a perfect attendance record for 12 years, and one of the best coaching records in the country. Last fall his Baker football team won the Kansas conference championship and so far his basketball team is undefeated in conference play.

Mr. Dolph Simons, Lawrence Journal World, Lawrence, Kansas.

Dear Dolph:

That was a splendid write-up in last night's paper on the Rotary Club meeting. You did a swell job with the meager material we were able to give you. Thanks very much.

NOTES ON THE PARTY

It isn't easy to speak without notes, but Robert McNair Davis and Lyle Powell made it appear very easy, each with his logical, well-ordered and enlightening discussion of the war situation.....John and Ruth took their kidding in good grace, like veterans......forty-eight members, forty-three Anns and eleven guests enjoyed a good dinner, a better program, and the fun of helping dispose of the wedding cake....

NEXT MONDAY

Well-known to most Lawrence Rotarians is Dr. R. Q. Brewster of the Chemistry Department at the University. He will discuss "The Chemical Aspects of the Sulfanilimide Problem" at Monday's meeting. This is an opportunity for us to learn something more about this important group of new drugs.

BOY SCOUTS

of the troop sponsored by our elub are earling their 1942 registration fees by gathering and selling masterpaper. Save the fid magazines and newspapers at your home for these youngsters. The Scouts will probably call at your house every two or three weeks to obtain the paper saved for them. Since Scouts of other troops are also gathering waste paper our boys will introduce themselves at members of the troop sponsored by Rotary. Don't forget to tell your Ann about this.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

Did you know that twenty of our members, one-third of the total, have last names of only one syllable, and that we have six Johns in the club. Did you know that various sentences (?) can be made from the names of members: Winter Skie Hurt Rice Hill, or Young Cotton Weaver Brand Skinner Banks. That's plenty of that but it fills up space.

Did you know that twenty-four members don't smoke and eight more smoke only on occasion. Last Monday nite must have been an occasion.

In the face of the gravest emergencies the Rotary clubs overseas continue to carry on. The Rotary Club of Madras, India, supplies cigarettes to troops passing through the city, and Rotarians of Nelson, New Zealand, present farewell gifts .. to service men and nurses proceeding overseas. The members of the Bendigo, Australia, club donate weekly to a fund which is used to provide comforts for prisoners of war. The Rotary Club of Nairobi, Kenya, has sent parcels of tea, sugar, and coffee to 18 clubs in England for distribution to needy air raid victims.

Undoubtedly, Rotarians find greater opportunities for service during an emergency than at any other time.

the Dog House

An attendance contest, which resulted in two months of almost perfect attendance, came to a most unusual conclusion recently at a meeting of the Rotary Club of Leaside, Ontario, Canada. The meeting place was partitioned off and one end of the room was made to look like a dog house. In the dog house the members of the losing team enjoyed (?) a luncheon of beans. Afterwards, they were required to speak to the club on the subject of attendance.

We wonder if the same club members will be in the dog house again after the next attendance contest in the Leaside club. What do you think?

Compulsory Attendance? No-Not in Rotary

Looking through our exchanges the other day, we noticed the following item in the Silver Falls Rotarian, publication of the Rotary Club of Silverton, Oregon. We think it "hits the spot." Read it and see if you don't agree with us.

"From time to time we hear of the compulsory attendance rule in Rotary. There is no such thing. No Rotarian is compelled to attend the meeting of his club. He has obligated himself to do so. And if he doesn't, he is liable to lose his membership.

"No one is forced to go to his Rotary club meetings at the point of a bayonet, or be dragged there with a rope. Members voluntarily and mutually agree to meet together every week. There is a rule, however, which: eliminates from membership the man who does not fulfill his attendance obligation."

Opportunity to Serve

To serve on the juries in the courts of our land is one of the Voices from engaged in some character of work that exempts a person from this service, all Rotarians should gladly perform this duty when called upon. Rotarians can be found taking an active part in all civic endeavors, and service on the juries of our country is one of our most patriotic duties. - The Gateway Gear, Laredo, Texas.

> "With your help each meeting can be made better than the previous one," says the club bulletin from Cleveland, Mississippi. Let's all of us keep this in mind.

The Way Rotary Works

(The sixth of a series of articles describing the organization and administration of Rotary International.)

Member Clubs and Rotarians

Rotary International, as an organization, is merely the composite of the more than 5,000 Rotary clubs in approximately 60 different countries. It is the clubs that are the members of Rotary International. The individual Rotarians are not members of Rotary International, but of their respective Rotary clubs. The individual Rotarians, and consequently the clubs, are held together by mutual understanding and friendship and by an acceptance of the service ideal and the Objects of Rotary.

This union of clubs, known as Rotary International (with its convention, board of directors, officers, committees, etc.), exists for the purpose of encouraging, promoting, extending, and supervising Rotary throughout the world, and also to coordinate and generally direct the activities of the united clubs or certain groups of them.

Unless you are present-60% of the meeting time, you are not entitled to credit for your attendance.
