My dear Professor Allen:

The action of the Board of Regents of January 9, 1943, provides that a graduating senior who withdraws from school to enter the Armed Service during the last quarter of the semester may receive full credit upon satisfactory completion of an examination in each course for the work up to the date of withdrawal.

Jack L. Kendall

is leaving the University to enter the Service and wishes to receive full credit in his course in

by taking a special final examination in accordance with the above ruling. Will you please arrange with him for this examination at any convenient time after the regular meeting of the class on

After the student's grade has been determined, please sign the enclosed card, present it to Dean Lawson for his signature, and return it to the Registrar's Office. The same grade should be recorded on the official grade sheet.

Credit for the student in this course cannot be placed on the official University records until this card is on file in the Registrar's Office.

Sincerely yours,

My dear Dr. Allen:

The action of the Deans on December 16, 1941 relative to credits to be allowed to students who leave the University to enter the Service contains the following provision: "A student who wishes to make the necessary preparation and take an examination over the whole course may receive full credit in that course if he passes the examination satisfactorily. Such an arrangement must be approved in advance in writing by the chairman of the department and the dean of the school."

is leaving the University to enter the Service, and it is my understanding that he plans to attempt to win full credit in his course in Physical Education by taking the final examination in this course in accordance with the above ruling.

In order to make certain that the arrangements for this examination have the required approval, I am asking that you sign the enclosed card, present it to Dean Lawson for his signature, and return it to the Registrar's Office.
