

Suggestions for Speeding Up Basketball

Senja Häyne on ^{mine} a speed demon Bicycle Rider and a bare back circus rider on a galloping nag all driving for the basket in a delirium of speed

ROY C. NELSON, the ironic caricaturist of sport, has just returned from watching a basketball game, as played under the new "speed" rules, and, in sarcastic mood, draws the above suggestions for further quickening of the sport. "No half-way measures," he says; "skates, bicycles or horses should be used, and the game made what it should be."