

I trust that you have had a fine summer and that you are working, not loafing. If you can't find a job do like the Irishman did. He got fired, but the next day he was on the job just the same. The boss said, "Look here, Pat, didn't I tell you that I didn't need you any more?" And Pat said, "Well, bogorra, boss, I found this out. I've got to work for somebody, and I'd just leave be working for you as anybody else."

With best wishes for a very happy summer, and trusting that you will be on Mount Oread fit and fighting, I am

Sincerely yours,
