

me that he understood K. U. to be a little more expensive than the other two schools, Colorado U. and Oklahoma U. Being entirely self-supporting, I had no trouble showing him that ours is a poor-boys' school.

Ed Hall lives about 5 miles from Shellbacker and had talked K. U. to him.

I was very much impressed by the mannerly gentleman; he would be a credit to our school. I would advise you to keep in touch with him personally, or have some of the basketball boys write him.

I am working for the Kansas State Highway Commission in the 6th division. If I can help you with any more boys out here, let me know.

Sincerely,
Stephen Kainowski
