

August 8, 1938.

Mr. Harold Keith,
Publicity Director,
University of Oklahoma,
Norman, Oklahoma.

Dear Harold:

As chairman of the Fifth District of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, I have been asking different newspaper men or others, but preferably newspaper men, to write a review of the conference basketball season for the Basketball Guide.

I have written C. O. Burnside, of Oklahoma City, asking him to send the names of persons who are competent to write up the two Oklahoma conferences - the Teachers College Conference and the Collegiate Conference. I have not yet heard from him, and thought he might be away on vacation.

I wonder if you would nominate some one who is capable of writing this material for the Guide? I would like to have it done as soon as possible, as I have already sent most of the material in to the publishers. If you would be kind enough to give me the name, or names, I would be glad to contact these people and ask them to write the material.

Thanks for your kind note just received this morning. I do appreciate your invitation to dinner, but when I come to Norman I want to take you out to dinner. I don't doubt what you say about your wife's cooking, but I wouldn't ask the mother of two little children to cook a dinner for me. I have been staying here on the job this summer, playing golf, and generally enjoying myself. I hope you are having a pleasant summer.

With best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

FCA:AH