High School Basketball Teams and Coaches Invited to "Clinic" and Opening Game

THE annual "Basketball Clinic" will be given at the University of Kansas December 3, 1938, with the clinic proper at 2:30 in the afternoon, and the clinic game, one with Missouri State Teachers College of Warrensburg, in the evening at 7:30.

Invitations have been sent to basketball coaches of High Schools of Kansas and of neighboring states, inviting them to come and to bring their teams, to attend the clinic and to be guests of the University management at the opening game the same evening.

Dr. Forrest C. Allen, head of the physical education department, and basketball coach — in fact, the dean of basketball coaches in America — is arranging an afternoon program that will develop many of the fine points in basketball playing and coaching.

Tom Scott, who is coaching his first year at War-rensburg, succeeding Tad Reid, will bring his team to Lawrence, and will open the clinic program with these demonstrations:

- 1 Ball-tipping practice.
- 2 Drill for enlarging peripheral vision.
- 3 Defensive practice in switching men when screened out of the plays.
- 4 Drills for deception in under-basket shooting.
- 5 Dribbling, stopping, and pivoting drill.

This will take a half hour, to be followed by another half hour by Dr. Allen and his men, demonstrating:

- 1 Mass defense drill.
- 2 Mass offense drill.
- 3 Set offense against man-to-man defense.
- 4 Set offense against zone defense.
- 5 Fast break offensive.

Following the team demonstrations two sets of film will be shown. One will be the talkie showing techniques of six American coaches; Carlson of Pittsburgh; Keogan of Notre Dame, Bunn of Stanford, McMillan of Minnesota, Bee of Long Island, and Allen of Kansas. The other film, a silent, is the Eastman teaching film prepared at the University of Kansas two years ago under the direction of Dr. Allen.

At suitable times during the afternoon there will be words of greeting from Chancellor E. H. Lindley and from Gwinn Henry, director of athletics, and remarks by E. A. Thomas of Topeka, executive secretary of the Kansas State High School Activities Association and a talk on officiating by E. C. Quigley, veteran sports official of the nation.

Quigley and John Carmody are to officiate.
