big time athletics. It is a bit amusing to observe how they are the envy of their less fortunate classmates who did not get to go. Even this morning in study hall I found one of them pointing out to a classmate your name as the author of the article on Sportsmanship in the current issue of Athletic Journal and glowing with pride in the fact that he had seen and heard you. I did not intend writing a lengthy letter but if I may say it without the appearance of flattery, I certainly congratulate you and envy your ability to work with and inspire these young fellows. You will likely not remember me by name, I first met you personally here at the
