

"It's the Basketball of the FUTURE"

Wilson Official Indestructo, Last-bilt!
Good for a full season of regular play

● Five ply, heat-vulcanized laminated construction—aeroplane cloth, liquid latex and specially selected pebble grain leather with specially processed channel seams on the leather cover. The first perfectly round ball—one hundred per cent rebound from back board and dribble—built over a rigid spherical form or last by a unique process, which insures uniformity in every ball. Each ball will last two to three times as long as an ordinary ball, because there are no stitches, seams or edges to wear out. Equipped with two rubber valves on opposite panels. Double insurance against valve repair as well as a balance for the ball. Conferences over the entire nation have already expressed their desire to officially adopt this ball which has the full endorsement and approval of "Chuck" Taylor and George Keogan, nationally known authorities on basketball.
