use for other publication purposes. These photographs are all being framed and will be placed in my office.

Incidentally, I am now making plans for a Tournament to be run at the Chicago Stadium in the first week in March, or possibly the second week in March. The teams that will compete will be chosen by a group of Coaches and sports writers.

However, I am at this time seeking to ascertain whether or not the teams that I would like to see in the Tournament will be able to participate if they are invited.

Can you at this time advise me with any degree of certainty, that you would be available if selected?
