Mr. E. S. Hickey,
Basketball Coach,
Creighton University,
Omaha, Nebraska.

Dear Eddie:

I do not think it would be a good thing to play our games so close together, say either January 29 or 30, or February 2 at one place and February 8 at the other.

I would like to play somebody at home prior to our game with Iowa on December 21. Therefore, I would rather have you on the December date here than to play at your place, if we can arrange it. We are also figuring on playing Rockhurst College in early December. We will perhaps play that game in Kansas City, so I would like to have one game at home before December 21.

I have just received a letter from Dean Swarthout of our School of Fine Arts and he has scheduled a concert on February 8th in the Auditorium with the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra. Therefore, that date is out of the way as far as we are concerned this year. So please do not count on it because the Fine Arts people have a priority date.

There is a possibility that we might play you in Omaha on January 29 or 30 if our dates with the service teams do not work out. It may be that both of us will have to make a special trip to Lawrence and to Omaha for our games rather than pick one up on the road. If you should find yourself unable to play on a December date, could you come to Lawrence for a game on March 4th?

Let me know what you think about this at your convenience.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation
Varsity Basketball and Baseball Coach.
