Miss Barrett presents her compliments to Mr. Bennett & desires to thank him for the kindness of his attention in sending her his volume of poems. She ventures to prefer as finished productions, the lyrics, a better specimen of English, to the longer poem - & she is happy to recognize the characteristic colouring of some of the songs, & the turns of grace & sweetness in others of them.
She begs to offer her best wishes to Mr. Bennett's "Mure" (addressed in the last pages) together with her best thanks to Mr. Bennett.
