

30 Torrington Square - W.C. Tuesday.

Dear Mr. Bryant

Without reminding you of anything I have said already, let me say that I do not quite like your scheme as I cannot but doubt whether your acquaintance can be aware of the value of the books he offers you. Why not tell him, and offer to sell them for him on Commission? You might get less in Cash, but would have acted with the most honorable openness.

I am heartily glad if you and your Wife are doing better both temporally and spiritually, and I commend to your ambition the nobility of independence.

Sincerely yours
Christina G. Poffette.
