

March 9, 1865

Dear Sir

The History of Civilization which sent to you early tomorrow morning:
we do not at all wish to hurry you,
especially as you need not be too much to getting some deliberate criticism, to get rough criticism is ^{more} important for a daily journal. — About the translations I will write again, in a day or two. Meanwhile I shall keep your oblige letter before me, but

~~prompt suggestions~~ — Return

~~was partially given~~

Ed. P. M. G.

W. M. Repetti, Esq.

James Greenwood, Editor of the Pall Mall Gazette, & reported author of the "Night in a Workhouse"