

made - of course on the understanding that the originals wd come back to me. I don't contemplate making any further commercial use of them: perhaps I shd not be entitled to do so.

These drawings &c all belong to an earlyish date in my Brother's life: I thought this suitable in connection with those early verses. Probably the Pall M. M. wd want only some of them
- not all. On their making a choice, I might be able to suggest how the illustrations had best be distributed.

I am as good as certain that not one of the enclosed has ever yet been published, unless it may possibly be the Head of Miss Siddal, as to that I have not any clear recollection of publication, but have a sort of notion that it appeared somewhere.

Yours very truly,

Wm Rossetti
