

a public crime about wh. I dare say few people at the present day remember anything. Christina's name is inscribed upon the pamphlet by herself. I take this copy of the pamphlet from among several extra copies of family-books remaining in my hands. As to my Brother, I have not as yet observed any volume with wh. I c^d conveniently part. I might possibly come upon one, & in such case wd remember your wish.

My elder sister Maria published but little other than the "Shadow of Dante," wh. serves to keep her name in recollection. She was an exceedingly devout woman; in 1873 she entered the All Saints Sisterhood, & there she died in 1876.

Yours very truly,
W. M. Rossetti.
