Via Park
Manchester

Dearest Lucy,

Here is Miss Pollock's answer & my appeal for letters —
I have been going through Mademoiselle's translation of "The Black Swan" & making pencil notes on it — but I must write to her herself about it. Translating is very difficult & very delicate work & she lacks very much the knack of giving French idiomatic equivalents for English words & forms. I have just heard from Harold at Grundel - He has written about Lafayette to his brother & means to try again if not successful.

I myself have Lovingly yours
J. Wadsworth Brown

June 18/86

Brown - 1st sentence refers to an a cousin - Brahamsville was one Jefferson, who had undertaken to translate Oliver Bonno's book - Lafayette Hamilcher - Hanover Co to H. Rathbone

1821-1893
Painter

MS
23L:3:4