Saturday

Dear Mrs Corrie
The frame arrived yesterday at last
and I shall be very glad to show ^{the picture} ~~it~~ to Constantine & yourself (if both can come) on Sunday afternoon. About 5 is best time,
if suitable.

I shall be sending
you Miss Leeson very soon, I have little doubt, but could not at once make up my mind as to what I could do from her. I never have long
sittings but always
pay the full day
as otherwise one

may interfere with other arrangements. Miss L. seems quiet enough not
to mind a dull studio,
and I judge her time
on the stage cannot
probably be broken-down
- if indeed that term
still exists.

Yours sincerely
J. Russell
P.S. I need not say how very anxious I feel that Constantine sh^d be pleased with the picture. There is something considerable

to do to it yet in
minor ways.
