

P.S. You know I could always lodge you in a room to order.

Have you continued on the track of the Rahab in subject and treatment, or have you done
subjects of the present day?
I hope to have a full & satisfactory talk
with you of all points of interest to both of us (and we have many in common) when you come again to London & hope further that
that may be soon - Old Brown is as cheery
an old master as ever, & all friends I think will on the whole -
Yours affec. D.G. Respects
