these may lose their power by use.

I regret much that
you should have lost
Mr Temple's visit
& the the sight of
your late work which would have really
rejoiced her & into every detail of which she wd have looked
with loving attention.
She and Mr Temple
called here the other day & I also wiped them! The why, you will think, is to keep.
The fact is I was

engaged in selling to Ellis a picture (The Lady of the Window)
which I afterwards
learned they had come to buy! - and having given orders to Dunn

that no one was
to come in, he even excluded them. I was delighted to hear that Mr Temple
was right again, -
his changes are most fitful & I am glad to hear he does not mean to stand for the next election.
However I think they'll want something
