

What I learned from Miss Hill That Amen was a strong word meaning truly verily when at the commencement of a sentence, and at the end assurdly, so be it—

That King Manassa was saved finally by the prayers of his righteous father, Hezekiah That if we would be able to repeat Scripture readily we must study very hard, That it did not come by inspiration Also that God would bring some great calamity upon a person that was resisting God to bring them to repentance, That they disciples followed Christ and Christ turned and accepted them from Ships that Pass in the night What our duty leads in the plan of life

not through some one great achievement Praising the Lord a stepping stone to righteousness.

"Those children can't help being something" One can do much in the common plain of light but often accomplish much through severe trials. Go live well ^{one} must act well and earnestly enrolling ~~it~~ and strong to live
of this life. Never living among the low and sinful only as you make them better and to help them onward to the Golden City-

How often when a man is making his way in the world and meets with success and is becoming famous that could we look back only a few years and we would find it was owing to the hard work and inspiration of some mother sister wife or sometimes the savings of the savings of younger brothers God bless those that are helping in the shadow behind the young & wealthy young men

Pride & the pride
How our children are disgraced by their surroundings
How some may be born happy after being refused from one they looked to many on nice young persons may be a lie and be distrustful of a worthy person
The Great God

The preacher showed what great power God had to save a wicked man like Jacob and make of him a great people

Socrates was for truth and could teach it - to his pupils

Christ was truth
Could teach it - to people and teach themselves

He showed that the college men had been looked upon as cowards but - when Sufferer was fired upon, the students in all the colleges laid aside their Latin & Greek and braved themselves for work where they needed them They fought for a principle There were 400,000 slaves whose cries were ^{ringing} ~~sent~~ in their ears and they were as by magic baptised with the waters
