Dear Mr. Simons: --

I wish to thank some one, whoever it might be, for sending a copy of the last issue of Kansas Business Magazine, and I wish to compliment the man, whose picture adorns the outside cover of such issue. A very, very fine likeness is the unanimous verdict of all concerned, and we know it to be an honor of which you must feel justly proud, and one which you so well deserve. And, then, too, we were glad to see Dolph's picture, as well as to read the articles concerning the Journal-World and other Lawrence industries. All in all, the issue is one of special interest to us, and we thank you very much for sending it along.

We are so sorry that Mrs. Simons continues to have difficulties from her fall, but we are hoping that improvement will be forthcoming soon to the extent that she may enjoy "the house by the side of the lake".

A Buick, full of happypeople drove up about six o'clock last evening, and after supplying them with bits of nourishment, followed by a game of bridge, every one tumbled into bed with visions of greeting the rising sun today; and, really this was accomplished, because all were out and gone a few minutes after six this morning. Right now they are probably basking in the shadows of Freeman's gorgeous fireplace, as the chances are that it is quite cool up there. We were so glad to see Dolph looking so well, and we know this rest will do him a lot of good - and it probably will not cause injury to any of the others.

It was so nice of you to send the magazine; it is a relief to receive something of a wholesome nature, after daily trying to digest war news, war pictures and reading matter full of the dire results of such devastation.

All extend kind regards to Mrs. Simons, as well as yourself;

Sincerely,
