

Page Two

I think that it is a mighty good thing that you have a minister on one side of you to counterbalance for a stuffed shirt on the other side. That ought to make a good ordinary decent citizen out of you. You could see the beauty of holiness on one side and parsimony in all its horrors on the other. When you get back, just drop this letter somewhere so Bill can find it.

I think we are getting things lined up at home in very good shape. We have already spoken to Logan about occupying our house. An investigation indicates that he stands well with the people who know him. He is working today changing the oil from the old tank to the new one, and I am very happy to be informed that apparently there is no water in the old tank. I had anticipated that there might be at least a couple of inches.

We haven't received word from the Lake since you arrived, but know you must be having a fine time.

Woeste just said that Jim Dougherty told him we would have a Sentinel next week.

Love to all

Dad