Dear Julia:

Six days have elapsed since I left you, and I hope you have shown marked improvement. I still think that you need the helpful companionship of someone who can look after things a little more deftly than Katie.

I hope you will be able to make your trip to Houston and the south and will find it invigorating.

Etoile has apparently been happy and contented altho naturally she is leading rather of a quiet life and is not getting away from the house very much. The coming of Dorothea and her two children doubtless will be good for her altho I think she worries a bit lest the little folks will hurt themselves in some way.

We had an X-Ray made of Certie some two or three weeks ago, and I have sent it on to Dr. Comfort of Mayo's so that he may compare it with the earlier photographs. She had a little upset with her stomach for a few days, but is now better.

Dolph's boys who have had measles and flu are both better and will be in school next week.

Lots of love from your brother,
