

How is the war progressing about Lawrence?
These are samples of Parachutes my Brother sent me which he picked up after the invasion of Normandy. Probably you have seen samples before. This mail is unsecured and sent these about a month ago.

Each color represents a different contents of the parachute, one color would be for food one guns, ammunition or medical supplies etc. He said he never secured a white one carrying personnel.

He thought their R-rations pretty good, but, not so good, when they had nothing but that for 2 weeks in the invasion, as the food supplies did not keep up with their advancement, an instance on landing ashore one fellow felt security and hung up his pants to dry. a German force rushed them and he left his pants & possessions and was without until he found a dead German and secured his pants.
