To the one remaining student.
Neither the university faculty ~~nor~~ administration had any choice in the matter; it was determined entirely by Army procedure.

In all laboratory departments the amount of help which we have for preparing supplies for laboratory instruction is very low and teachers must take over these chores. The wartime shortage of help is felt here as well as elsewhere.

In these circumstances you will see that published remarks about our "having to go to work" are not appreciated.
If intended for the truth they are lacking in accuracy;
