longer Honest [illegible] your faith will bear fruit. It would be unnecessary to write another letter although I need them all – as every one – if I knew your address and made it safe. God will not let me die or fail until