

Mr. Clint Kanage

They have been with us now for pretty nearly eight months and Mrs. Simons is delighted with the arrangement.

Outside of Joe, Dolph and Farris, I hardly now if there is anyone here that you would know. Bob Price may have been with us, for he was in "World War I". The force is somewhat larger than it was in the old days. I just signed fifty checks for the regular weekly payroll, and that does not include eight or ten heads of departments who are paid monthly instead of each week. On top of that, there are about twenty-five carriers. We are crowded for room and must arrange for it in some way as soon as materials and labor are available.

Best wishes to all.

Cordially yours,
