

My mother always had a feeling of especial friendship for your wife, and that regard
was added to my own fondness of Mrs. Simons.

I grieve to see old friends leave, but I know that your wife
was one of the fortunate women who gave happiness, and received happiness all of her life.

Most sincerely,

Helen Shilton.

November the seventeenth