

sympathy comes to you and yours from away over here in Germany.

We had a delightful crossing and found the atlantic smooth and warm for this time of the year. We sailed by Dover Eng. where we picked up our pilot for the North Sea and saw again the white cliffs. We docked at Bremerhaven, Germany Oct. 17 where our train met us and we were soon on our way to Frankfurt. My husband is at the Engineer Depot in Hannau - 20 miles east of Frankfurt but we live in the little health resort mt. town of Bad Orb, which escaped all bombing. while we have a lovely house here, maid service, fireman, etc. our thoughts are often in Lawrence

Miller Art Co.
