

200 Thursday Evening
Dear Cousin Collins

I am completely flabbergasted and utterly thrilled over the lovely present that arrived today from you!!

I don't know how to thank you. When one has wanted something for years and it suddenly and unexpectedly drops out of a clear sky, well, there just aren't words.

Eugene laughs at my delight telling me to "slow down for you will have high blood pressure instead of low."

Now, I can have the air I need and keep warm - my biggest problem solved. I can see Cousin Gertrude's sweet smile of pleasure - she knows.

I do thank you so much.
Your loving cousin
Kathryn
