

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McNalley

December 8, 1949

more men dressed themselves as women and put over a farcical program of a PEO meeting. It seemed that Dolph, Sr., as a buxom woman really carried off the honors. I, doubtless, would have enjoyed seeing the men put on their stunt, but I was afraid that such pleasure might be counterbalanced by the memory of Gertrude and her activeness in the PEO.

I find myself within a few days, or a little more than two weeks from Christmas and I have done very little besides having some cards printed.

I had a call from Mary Beth who wanted to use the car this afternoon, and I understand that Mac is going to be here. We shall be glad to have him.

There is nothing especially new. I wanted to congratulate you over your many years of happy and successful life.

Much love,
