Mr. W. C. Simons

Dear Mr. Simons:

I want to offer my sincere thanks to you for the beautiful bouquet of spring flowers which you sent my wife. There were several of her friends present when they were delivered and these friends asked my wife to guess the name of the sender. She named practically everyone she knew except you and when she was told that you had sent the flowers, she burst into tears. You have no idea how much good this bouquet did for her.

Again thanking you for your kindness, I remain

Sincerely yours,

Will Johns
