

similar to my own fall just lately. At the turn of the stairs going down the other night I fell two steps to the landing. Not far, but alas! I struck directly on my head. Had it been a soft one, I should not now be writing to you. But being a regular cocoanut, all is well. There were many aches for a few days, but I escaped with no serious damage.

Lillian and I send much love to Yourself, Gertrude, Blanche, Pat. Janet and our new cousin Mac, Dolph, Dorothea, John and the babies. Hope I have not missed any one, if I have please add his name.

Jean.
