

the huge yellow & purple forest trees in their shades of green, the violet-colored jacaranda (I believe it is spelled), besides all the low bushes and smaller trees as the pride-of-Barbados, the lapis-tranica, the "moon" vines, the night-blooming cereus, the bouganvillea, the hibiscus and a myriad of others - I love them all!! and the bright sunshine and soft trade winds that produce them and the (shall I say?) lazy life I lead.

At least I manage to do accounting eight hours a day five days a week, run my apartment and do considerable "going". The past two weeks have really kept me on my toes - Three couples who have been friends of mine - (and of Whit's) for the past thirty years are leaving soon - and it seems everyone has given them a party. It has been one round of dinners, and cocktails, and bridge parties and what-have-you - I usually put in my appear-
