

and at each one but don't always remain until the "last cat dies".

You spoke of being unable to secure a painting of the South American beaches; I have an artist friend here who made a trip around South America a few years ago & she "did" dozens of canvases of places she visited on that trip. Her style does not always appeal to me, tho she has done some very meritorious work. If you are still interested in a painting of one of the places I might be able to secure one for you.

See, I'll bet you are tired reading all this dribble, anyway it's done - so I'll send it along. Maybe you'll time out long enough from your work to write me again sometime.

Sincerely,
Eduard W.

Oh I saw in life where a Lawrence girl was queen of the "Royal" in Kansas City. Did you know her?
