Dear Grandchildren:

There was a time when Owen was very much on our minds, but now our present interest is largely on the little one who is soon to arrive. We wish you the best of luck and will be glad to get the news as soon as possible.

I think it is fine that you and Marilyn are so close together. It must be kind of tough to be entirely away from all of your home folks.

Marie has certainly mastered the art of spelling out a word with a straight line, but fortunately I think I can read every word that she writes, and her writing on the whole is attractive.

Much love to you both.

Love,
