Dear Blanche:

I am delighted to know that Pat has returned to normal. If it wasn't for the advantage he has on me in years, I might take him on now, as I too have returned to my earlier weight of 155 pounds. I am fortunate in having good health. I felt that last night I had the best night's rest that I had had for a long, long while, not that the other nights have not been good, but that last night was super. I had two windows open and a little heat on so that it was not too cold.

It has been cold enough for a little furnace heat, but I have not turned on the main heating plant as yet. We found that a part of the pipe leading from the furnace to the chimney had rusted out and that a squirrel evidently had dropped down the chimney and out through the hole in the pipe. It was an odd happening, and of course we will have the pipe repaired at once.

You would be surprised to see the building activity on the forty-acre tract to the south of us. Two nice one-story, five or six room homes are nearing completion and others are under way.

We have not had a frost as yet and frequent rains have kept grass and foliage green and luxuriant.

I shall be very happy to have you come and to stay as long as you can. Elinor Scott seems to be keeping the home in a satisfactory manner.

I am very anxious to see those little great grandsons again and hope it will not be too long before I do.
