Dear Blanche, Janet and Dorothea,

I have been having rather of a miserable week so far. I was down only a short while yesterday and will probably not spend more than half an hour at the office today. Dr. Johnson called on me day before yesterday and prescribed for me, so that doubtless I will be all right in a few days.

I don't want any of you to worry about me, but thought I should tell you how I feel. I talked with Marie over the phone this morning and Dolph will be home the last of the week from New York where he has been spending a week on an important committee assignment.

I shall be glad to see you any time, but don't feel that my condition warrants any particular worry on your part. I will probably be all right again in a few days.

Love to each of you,
