Dearest Dad,

Well, this has been a thrilling day - to see the biggest ovation ever given a man in this country. I was out most of the day & saw the parade & the McArthurs three different times. He looks like the great man he is & she is most charming. I'm sorry I didn't get out to see them.

This A.B. job is very strenuous. Since we came he is over there from morning until six in the evening. Tonight we were just too tired to go & do anything so we bedded down at 8:30. We aren't going
